"THE JOHN ANDERSON HIGHWAY" BETWEEN
JACKSONVILLE AND ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA.

This section together with the rest of the New County Pavement and the road on down the East Coast has become a part of the "Montreal Miami Highway" and later "The Dixie Highway."

There are sixty miles of brick in St. Johns County.
Running from one end of the County to the other. It, the road, traverses the greatest Irish Potato Growing section in the United States. Millions of Barrels of select stock are shipped out for the early market each year. It also traverses the best and largest corn and dairy section in the State of Florida.

Jacksonville and Atlantic Beaches are among the finest in the world. The sand is so white and hard that the heaviest automobile leaves but a faint outline of its tire treads; the surf so enjoyable and the water so tempered that there are few days of the year when bathers are not seen on the beaches. Auto races on the beach are events on nearly every legal holiday.

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

JACKSONVILLE welcomes you to the land of sunshine. Here you will find a delightful place in which to live whether for one week or for a lifetime. You will find recreational advantages plus business opportunities and excellent health conditions.

The climate is balmy, enabling you to take advantage of the great out-of-doors the entire year and has been directly responsible for many phenomenal cures. In Jacksonville vitality is not absorbed in an effort to keep warm.

Jacksonville's summer climate is delightful, and Jacksonville's beaches are famed as a comfortably cool and immensely popular summer resort. Strange as it may seem, many northern residents come south to Jacksonville to escape the heat of northern summers.

JACKSONVILLE . . . is a friendly city, with spacious and moderately priced hotels and apartments . . . fine restaurants and cafeterias . . . municipal parks . . . tennis courts . . . golf courses . . . bathing beaches . . . superb fresh and salt water fishing . . . and a surrounding countryside rich in historic lore and scenic beauty.

. . . Is Florida's largest city with more than 200,000 residents, and the financial, industrial and commercial center of the State.

. . . Covers 39 square miles; has 235 miles of paved streets.

. . . Has its own electric plant, a model of efficiency with rates among the lowest in the Southeast, earning almost two million dollars a year for the city's taxpayers.

. . . Is the largest naval stores terminal in the world, and the largest lumber shipping point on the Atlantic Coast. It has its own municipal docks and eight miles of developed harbor front with 68 piers.

. Has 293 churches of all denominations and a modern public school plan including three high schools and three junior high schools.

. . . Has 426 industries producing over 450 different commodities. Of these, 192 major plants alone have annual payrolls totalling nearly $25,000,000 and products valued at more than $100,000,000.

. . . Has the world's largest cigar factory under one roof, producing more than two million cigars daily . . . the largest creosoting and wood chemical plant in the East . . . the second largest tractor plow plant in the South . . . the South's largest oil terminals.

. . . Has a modern municipal airport, and is only six hours by plane from New York, seven hours from Chicago. An average of 24 commercial airliners use the airport daily on scheduled trips North, South and West.

. . . Is served by four trunk line railroads, two passenger steamship lines, two airlines, and several bus and truck lines.

. . . Is a key center for national defense activities, with a vast Naval Air Station and nearly a score of auxiliary air fields in the immediate vicinity.

. . . Bears its name in honor of Andrew Jackson, first territorial governor of Florida and later president of the United States.
