Record Series #: 3121-019

Name: Engineering Department, Savannah Cadastral Survey – Ward Survey Maps

Dates: 1939-1940

Extent/Size: 252 sheets in 5 oversize folders (1.5 cubic feet)

Language: English

Scope & Content:

The Engineering Department, Savannah Cadastral Survey – Ward Survey Maps (1939-1940) includes 252 sheets of survey maps of Savannah's wards prepared by the Works Progress Administration (W.P.A.) as part of the three-year, $65,000 W.P.A. Savannah Cadastral Survey project. The city of Savannah is laid out in a system of wards, or blocks of land. The Cadastral Survey included all wards within the city's corporate limits at the time. On May 9, 1940, Major H. U. Wallace, District W.P.A. Engineer, presented Mayor Thomas Gamble with the Ward Survey Maps at City Hall. The survey was originally intended for use of the local tax assessors, but it has also proved useful for planning public utilities and improvements, determining property lines, and tracing the history of buildings and properties.

A companion piece to this collection, lot survey cards for each individual lot within the city's limits, is housed in the Chatham County Clerk of Superior Court's office. The lot survey cards provide additional information on each individual property, including building construction, property assessment, and ownership. The lot survey cards were originally given by the W.P.A. to the Chatham County Tax Assessor's Office who later gave them to the Clerk of Superior Court. The lot survey cards are referred to as the Cadastral Survey or the Karney/Carney files.

System of Arrangement & Ordering:

The Savannah Cadastral Survey – Ward Survey Maps are arranged numerically by sheet number from #1 to # 253. Sheet #214 is missing from the set. The sheets were arranged and numbered so that the wards were ordered alphabetically, with the exception of those sheets that featured multiple wards. Please see the attached inventory for a full listing of wards represented in this collection.
