Record Series #: 5600IN

Name: City of Savannah, Georgia Records – Inspections Department

Dates: 1866-1977

Extent/Size: 78 volumes and 84 document cases (50 cubic feet)

Organizational History:

Prior to 1884, the City Surveyor had the responsibility of approving building requests (Code of Savannah 1858, p. 97). According to an ordinance passed in 1884, a permit from the Clerk of Council was necessary before a person could start building a structure or repair a structure, for work costing over $100 (Code of Savannah 1888, p. 152). In 1904, a Building Inspector was appointed to inspect all construction sites, and building permits were issued by the Tax Assessor's office (Code of Savannah 1907, p. 176). By 1917, the permits were issued by the Building Inspector, who would then report to the Committee on Streets and Lanes (Code of Savannah 1918, p. 201).

In 1958, the title of the office of Building Inspector was changed to Director of Public Improvements (Code of Savannah 1958, p. 316). Today the Development Services department, in the Public Development Bureau, carries on the functions of engineering, surveying, building inspection and permitting services (2008 Service Program and Budget, p. 120). Development Services is responsible for interpreting and enforcing the codes that affect the safety and welfare of the public and its property. The codes regulate building and site construction, life safety and structural items, as well as electrical, plumbing and mechanical systems. The Property Maintenance department is responsible for enforcement of property maintenance codes, to promote a safe, clean and healthy environment (2008 Service Program and Budget, p. 126).
