

Neighborhood Leadership Training

Super Saturday Mini-Institute Series

Super Saturday Mini-Institute Training

Please come join other community members and neighborhood leaders to learn and share information about how we can make our great neighborhoods even better!

The Department of Community Planning and Development will host “At Your Service: How to Access City Services” a panel discussion featuring various City Departments and subject matter experts. This is your opportunity to get questions answered and to learn more about new and existing City services and programs.

The event is free and open to the public and promises to be packed with great resources and information!

SESSION DESCRIPTION

At Your Service: How to Access City Services

Facilitator: Margaret Williams, Administrator - City Manager's Office

Come learn more about what you can do, what the City is doing and what other neighborhoods have done to address neighborhood issues. This two-hour session will feature information about new and existing city services, prevention tips, suggestions and materials for learning more about City resources.

SESSION INFORMATION

When: Saturday, March 28, 2015
Where: Savannah Civic Center
Time: 9:30 am – 12:00 pm

Mini- Booth Information Fair and Breakfast start at 9:00 a.m. in the Civic Center Ballroom.

REGISTER TODAY! Call Amelia Dempsey at (912) 651-6520 by March 20th or online at www.savannahga.gov/leadershiptraining

Sponsored by the Department of Community Planning and Development www.savannahga.gov/Communityservices